Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 10 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy and breezy on Sunday with some patchy light rain.

Today:
A cloudier day for most with some patchy early rain which may fall onto frozen surfaces giving icy stretches, but still with some bright or sunny spells once initial patchy freezing fog clears. Feeling cold and becoming slightly breezier later. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy and breezy with extensive fog and further light rain and drizzle over the Derbyshire hills. Perhaps the odd clear spell after midnight further east, cold but largely frost free. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
Staying mostly cloudy and breezy, with further heavy rain and fog over the hills. Further east will see some patchy light rain and perhaps an occasional brighter spell. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday, cold and dry after overnight rain clears south. Sunny spells developing and light winds. Wednesday, rain perhaps wintry at first, windy later. Thursday, windy with coastal showers, drier later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.